THE SIGNAL'S FALL FEATURED VEHICLE: JOE BRUGGEMAN'S 2014 Chevy Corvette

The Story Behind the Ride

A lifelong Corvette owner and enthusiast, Joe's connection to Chevrolet's iconic sports car stretches well before his current 2014 Corvette Stingray. It's a history that goes back more than four decades. It all began in his early twenties after his brother purchased a brand-new 1975 Corvette. Inspired to experience one for himself, Joe found a blue 1969 Corvette Stingray convertible equipped with a four-speed manual transmission and a 350-horsepower 350 cubic-inch V8. It would be the beginning of a passion that would span generations.

Over the years, a steady progression followed. An '87 convertible replaced the Stingray, followed by a 1997 model, then a 1998. In 2005, Joe purchased his first brand-new Corvette, a red C6, which remained with him for the next 18 years before making way for his current ride—a 2014 Corvette Stingray (C7).

The Journey Home

Joe purchased the C7 in 2023 under unique circumstances. After the previous owner passed away, his wife was left with two Corvettes to sell. Joe's brother, who serves as president of the Corvette Club in Joplin, Missouri, knew the owner personally and helped coordinate the sale. Before long, Joe and a friend made the long trip south to Missouri, turning the pickup into a memorable road trip:

One filled with time spent with family and plenty of scenic backroads before driving the Corvette home.

New and Improved

The seventh gen Corvette marked one of the biggest leaps in the model's history. Powered by a 455-horsepower, 6.2-liter LT1 V8, the C7 paired traditional American V8 performance with a level of comfort Joe hadn't experienced in any of his previous Corvettes. He cites the NPP exhaust and the numerous comfort features as his favorite parts of the car.

More Than Just the Cars

As a longtime member of the local Corvette Club, Joe regularly attends cruises, rallies, and regional events, including this year's annual Corvette Rally held July 15–18 in Spearfish, SD. Over the years, he's discovered what many enthusiasts eventually realize: while the cars bring people together, it's the friendships that keep them coming back.

"You come for the love of the cars," Joe says, "but you stay for the people."

After more than forty years of Corvette ownership, that passion shows no signs of slowing down. Joe plans to continue enjoying his 2014 Stingray for years, adding another chapter to a lifelong story built around one of America's most recognizable sports cars.

Exciting Future

A big announcement by Vern Eide: the company has purchased the old Citibank campus in northeast Sioux Falls.

The 69 acre site opened back in 1981 and helped launch South Dakota into the credit card industry. Citibank moved to a different location in 2019 and the buildings left behind have remained mostly empty since that time.

Plans are in the works on what the space will be used for and shows Vern Eide's continued investment and interest in the community we call home.

Honeymoon in the Land of Fire and Ice

Where does a couple who met on a cold, snow-filled day in South Dakota, got engaged, and married earlier this year go for their honeymoon? If you're Alec Skidmore, a sales consultant at Vern Eide Acura, the answer is Iceland.

Alec and his bride, Liz, packed their bags and traveled to the Land of Fire and Ice for two weeks of sightseeing and hiking adventures. While Iceland may seem like a far-off destination, it's closer than you might think—just over a six-hour flight from Minneapolis.

The newly married couple arrived in Iceland's capital city, Reykjavík, which has a population of approximately 140,000, before making their way to Egilsstaðir, a town with a population of around 2,700. For many travelers, the area serves as a gateway to the country's rugged frontier.

The couple explored a good portion of the country's Ring Road, taking in impressive waterfalls, geothermal springs, and breathtaking views as far as the eye could see. Alec says, "Just when you thought you'd seen the coolest thing imaginable, 15 minutes later, there was something even cooler around the corner." The two already want to return. Alec says he and Liz can't wait to revisit Iceland and add to the memories they've already made in the Land of Fire and Ice.

You Are Not Alone

September is National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month—a time to shine a light on a difficult topic and break the stigma surrounding mental health, and remind ourselves that no one has to face their struggles alone.

At Ven Eide, we believe that our greatest strength is our people. Just as we look out for one another at work, it's just as important that we look out for each other's well-being. Sometimes, the person struggling the most is the one who seems to have it all together. A simple check-in, an open ear, or a genuine “How are you really doing?” can make a difference.

If you or someone you know is going through a difficult time, please remember that support is available 24/7 by calling or texting 988.

IT Tip: Phishing 101 — Don't Take the Bait

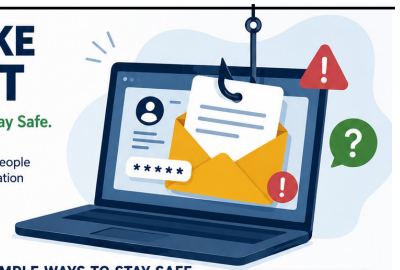

Don't Let Social Engineers Fool You:
Not every cyberattack starts with malware—many start with a conversation. Social engineering is when scammers manipulate people into revealing sensitive information or convincing them to take actions they normally wouldn't. They often create a false sense of urgency or pretend to be someone you trust.

DON'T TAKE THE BAIT

Be Smart. Be Skeptical. Stay Safe.

Social engineering scams trick people into giving away sensitive information or taking action they shouldn't.

Stay alert. Verify. Protect.

SIMPLE WAYS TO STAY SAFE

Here are a few simple ways to stay safe:

- Verify the sender: Check that the email address or phone number matches the person or company it claims to be.
- Contact them directly: If you're unsure, don't reply to the email or use the phone number provided. Instead, call the person using a trusted phone number or start a new email using their known address.
- Hover before you click: Place your mouse over links to see where they actually lead before clicking.
- Be cautious of urgency: Messages demanding immediate action, secrecy, or threatening consequences are common scam tactics.
- When in doubt, contact IT: If something doesn't seem right, stop and ask before taking action. We'd much rather investigate a suspicious message than deal with the aftermath of a successful scam.

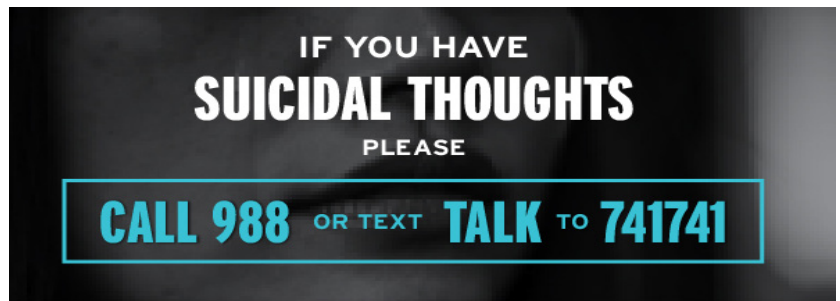

Need Help?

If you receive a suspicious email, phone call, or text message, contact the IT Help Desk before responding or clicking any links.

Remember: Cybercriminals rely on trust and urgency. Taking just a minute to verify a request can prevent a costly security incident.

Training Of The Month

"People ask the difference between a leader and a boss. The leader leads, and the boss drives."

-Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the U.S

September's training is based on the book "Leader Shift" by John C. Maxwell, which explores the mindset changes leaders must make to remain effective in an ever-changing world. Rather than relying on one fixed leadership style, Maxwell encourages readers to develop the flexibility to adapt, learn, and grow according to the needs of their teams and circumstances. "Leader Shift" reminds us that leadership is not merely a position—it's a positive influence we develop by serving, guiding, and inspiring others.

Our Reason Why: To improve the quality of life for our employees, our customers, and our community.

Because you choose to show up every day and do what you do with excellence, we're able to give to non-profit organizations and missions that exist to serve the greater good of our community.
